

1 they are gathering votes for the next campaign, and I am
2 reminded, "Gather your rosebuds while ye may, o' time
3 is still flying. That same flower that blooms today,
4 tomorrow may be dying". Then I heard some of the speakers
5 expounding on this. They have given me words of wisdom, 6 and I am reminded of other verse: "They wonder and still 7 the wonder grew that one small head could carry all he 8 knew".

9 But, Mr. President, it is a rather anomalous 10 situation when we here today take those young ones who 11 cannot carry their own affairs and yet we want to let them
12 run ours.

13 THE CHAIRMAN: Are you ready for the question?
14 Delegate Hostetter?

15 DELEGATE HOSTETTER: Mr. President, someone said
16 please vote. We are ready to do that, sir, but I raise 17 a question of particular inquiry, sir, with respect to the 18 pages. Two glasses of water or cups of water have been 19 brought to me tonight, sir, and both of them have had the 20 number nineteen marked on them.
